Tracking the evolution of Nordic trade finance

Marking a decade in Sweden, the Nordic Region Trade & Export Finance Conference returns to Stockholm on November 16, 2017!

With close to 430 delegates in 2016, this year's event will once again impose itself as the only event of its kind in the Nordics and continues to attract a huge range of international corporates, financiers, regulators, insurers, legal specialists and trade experts, providing a unique forum for those involved in trade to meet and learn from market peers.

Key drivers for discussion featuring throughout the course of this focused one-day gathering include the impact of an uncertain geopolitical climate on international trade, key challenges and new opportunities in emerging markets, the future role of technology in trade finance, treasury & working capital optimisation and financial risk management.

Free corporate passes are available to importers, exporters, traders, distributors, manufacturers & producers of physical goods. In addition, a 15% discount off any pass is available when booking online with the unique code.
